

Nurse Assistant Training Certificate

MassBay Community College - Spring 2020

WHAT IS A NURSE ASSISTANT?

Nursing assistants perform vital hygiene and daily living functions of patients in their care. They are also responsible for positioning and transporting patients, obtaining vital signs, maintaining a clean and safe environment, and for monitoring the overall health and safety of their patients.

At MassBay, students learn how to perform routine healthcare tasks for today's increasingly diverse population, plus hygiene and infection control, and work ethics of a professional member of the nursing and health team.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES:

Nurse Assistants find employment in nursing homes, hospitals, rehabilitation facilities, and with further training, as home health aids, working directly with patients and under the supervision of Registered Nurses or Licensed Nurse Practitioners.
